Six Former Premiers From New French Cabinet In Effort To Save Nation From Utter Collapse

MEXICO CRISIS

Religious Trouble in Southern Republic is Strictly an Internal Affair, Says State Dept.
(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Mexico's religious crisis is held by the United States as strictly an "internal affair" it was learned at the State Department today. This nation will maintain a neutral position. The present situation has brought no change in the policy of friendship to the Calles administration, it was emphasized.
In view of the delicacy of the situation, the department, maintaining a strict silence, those attempting to draw from Secretary Kellogg an official viewpoint, realized his determination to do or say nothing which might be misconstrued.
The department will carry out President Coolidge's "hands off" policy to the letter, it was learned. At the same time officials emphatically "spiked" published reports.

Local Chamber of Commerce
Takes Active Part in Events

Aubrey Wilson and B. S. Sanders of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce represented this city last night at the session of all the county chambers at Crockett auditorium to arrange plans for the opening of the Carquinez Straits bridge.
The affair, for the tentative date of May 21, 22, and 23, is sponsored by the Crockett Businessmen's association. Tentative plans were arranged for the affair last night.
Governors of the states of California, New Mexico, Arizona, Washington, Nevada, Oregon and British Columbia will be invited to attend the three days fete, which, it is promised, will be one of the biggest affairs ever held in this state for some time.
During the fete, it is planned, no tolls will be collected at the bridge, giving the public a chance to cross what will be the biggest toll bridge in the country.
Members of the Berkeley and Oakland chambers, represented by Roy Long and G. T. Douglas, of Berkeley, and Arthur Waltheve, Oakland made several suggestions.
The Berkeley members suggested that plans would be made to have the University of California and Stanford Regatta take place in the straits. For this event the tide must be perfect so the dates for the opening of the bridge were made tentative.
Battleships, destroyers, submarines and other government craft will be at the ceremonies, lending a touch of color. Special electrical displays, fire works and other lighting effects are planned.
It has also been planned to have a historical pageant of the discovering of the straits by Don Pedro Fagis, a Spanish soldier who was commissioned by Father Junipero Serra to explore this section of the state.
It is also planned to have fraternal organizations present to stage degree work and other ceremonies.
Richmond, along with the chambers of commerce of eight counties will go to Vallejo on Friday night to further plans for the event.

Guy A. Henry, General Director of the Eyesight Conservation Council of America, reports that 6,000,000 children in this country suffer from poor eyesight. Statement of Radio Operator

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—A sworn statement by Kenneth G. Ormiston, erstwhile radio expert at Angelus Temple, declaring that a woman companion with whom he occupied a cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea as "Mr. and Mrs. George McIntyre," during the latter part of May, was not Aimee Semple McPherson, a nurse, who he referred to as "Miss X," was in the hands of district attorney Ann Koyes today.
Ormiston's affidavit, sent by air mail from Chicago, will be laid before the county grand jury tomorrow, by Koyes, together with evidence obtained at Carmel by deputy district attorney Joe Ryan and captain of detectives Cline.
It will then be up to the grand jury to decide whether they care to go into the case further, said the district attorney, who yesterday declared that the case had been dropped so far as his office was concerned.
Asked today if there was a possibility of the grand jury taking an initiative in the case, foreman W. H. Carter said:
"That depends entirely upon the result of our meeting with Mr. Koyes tomorrow."
In his affidavit, pronounced genuine by the district attorney, Ormiston gave full details of his movements from May 14, the day on which arrangements were made for renting the Carmel cottage until May 25.
Ormiston said he arrived at Carmel on May 15, the day after Mrs. McPherson disappeared at Ocean Park. Ormiston said he arrived with "Miss X" at the Carmel bungalow about 5 o'clock that morning.
On May 20 Ormiston said he first learned of Mrs. McPherson's disappearance and from Salinas, where he went to pay a fine for speeding. He called Mrs. McPherson's mother and expressed his sympathy.
Ormiston said he heard his name mentioned over the radio on May 26 in connection with the McPherson case. He visited Los Angeles.

COUNCIL SETS ELECTION DATE FOR THE ANNEX

September 7 Set As Date For Election of District Which Adjoins City Limits

Tuesday, September 7 has been set as the date for the annexation election to determine whether the Richmond Annex shall be incorporated in the City of Richmond. The city council last night approved of the date and appointed the election officers.
The polling place will be Pryde's garage, 900 Panhandle boulevard. Donald E. Pryde was appointed inspector of the election board and Mrs. Ella B. Ralph and Harry E. Rawson were named as judges.
The petition asking for the election was presented to City Attorney T. M. Carlson at the last meeting of the council at which time City Clerk A. C. Faris announced that he had verified the signatures of the residents and found that the necessary one-fourth qualified voters were represented.
The district involved consists of approximately three-fourths of the territory in the district and has a population of about 100.
This is the second time that an election for the annexing of the territory to the city of Richmond has been held. Last December the first election was held resulting in the defeat of the annexation.
An election was held this spring to annex the territory to El Cerrito. This also was defeated. Proponents of each plan decided that since they could not bring the district into one city they would split the Annex.
El Cerrito will seek to annex part of the district at an election to be held August 18. The district included in this election consists of the territory from the county line to Avilla avenue and from San Pablo avenue to Panhandle boulevard.
The remainder of the territory with the exception of a strip along San Pablo avenue which is also included in the territory for the El Cerrito annexation, seeks annexation to Richmond.

CONTRACT FOR
IS AWARDED

M. J. Bevanda, Richmond contractor, was yesterday awarded the contract for the construction of streets and curbs in the Rheem avenue district at a bid of $33,822.19. The streets included in the program are Sanford, Wilcox and Alfreda avenues and Eighteenth Nineteenth and Twentieth streets.
The improvements are first of a program planned by the Richmond company for the district. The specifications call for a six-inch asphalt macadam paving with concrete curbs and gutters.
The improvements call for 159,858 square feet of gutters and 11,691.42 linear feet of concrete. The district adjoins the northern boundary of Richmond and is across from the proposed new Union high school. The Richmond company plans the construction of streets in the district within the city limits.

Pinole Caravan Here Tonight
To Boost Industrial Show
And Carnival There Aug. 11

A caravan of twenty automobiles from Pinole will come to Richmond tonight to boost the second annual industrial exposition to be staged there August 11 to 14.
J. C. Rogers, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, stated yesterday that plans are being made to accommodate 30,000 persons. Last year more than 20,000 persons attended the carnival and the events this year are expected to draw a much larger crowd.
The exhibits will be housed in a tent 150 by 50 feet with an asphalt floor. Amusements and concessions for the carnival will consist of vaudeville acts, band concerts, street parades, side shows and a giant ferris wheel. All available concession space has already been sold.
The committee in charge of arrangements consists of J. C. Rogers, chairman, T. W. Hutchinson, C. L. Townes, C. F. Ruff, A. McDonald, M. Marcus, Mrs. W. H. Clark, Mrs. George Catlett, Mrs. Bryan Emmerson, George Fraser, Elmer Christian, Roy LeFebvre, Edward Ebsen, Harry Williams and Edward Silva.

Insane Patient
Makes Escape
And Is Re-taken

Allowed his liberty for a short time for exercise, Joe Dittbrenner of El Cerrito, 28, an insane patient, escaped from the county hospital yesterday afternoon but his freedom was short lived. Within less than a half hour of Dittbrenner's flight he was found on the Franklin canyon highway by W. H. Hough, hospital superintendent. Dittbrenner was adjudged insane Friday following his arrest on a charge of threatening the life of his mother, Mrs. Nellie Fulton. He was being held at the hospital awaiting transportation to the state hospital at Stockton.

SPAN HEARING

The board of supervisors yesterday postponed the hearing of the application of the Northern California Development company for permission to build a bridge across Carquinez straits until next Monday at which time the board will take action.
The application for the franchise together with a petition calling for a special election in case that the supervisors deny the proposition for the second time was presented to the board.
In postponing the hearing, the board stated that it was not their desire to merely delay the question but as yesterday's meeting was the first in the month, the calendar was too crowded to permit the board to give sufficient time to the hearing.
T. M. Carlson, of Richmond, and Joseph Haber, of San Francisco, attorneys for the Northern California Development company presented the request and asked that they be read as a matter of record. Attorney Haber also asked the board to make the demand to the state engineer of his approval of the bridge which is to become a state law. The board denied this request stating that this matter could be taken up also at the next meeting.
According to the terms of the ordinance drafted for the present session, the board of supervisors must build the bridge within three years and six months of the date the franchise is granted and must start actual construction within one year of that date.
The franchise allows the company to build and collect tolls from a bridge which is to become the property of two counties, Solano and Contra Costa, at the expiration of the franchise.
In making application for the franchise, Attorney Carlson asked the board to grant the request, and if the board did not grant the application to call special elections and submit the matter to the people in accordance with the petition signed by law to place a matter on the ballots.
County Clerk J. H. Wells in presenting the petition to the supervisors declared that he had checked the names on the great register and found that the petition was signed by the required twenty percent of the total voters in the county.
The board will act upon the application next Monday afternoon with a state law which states that they must act upon a measure within ten days of the filing of the application.
PERMIT GRANTED
The city council last night granted the request of Mrs. W. H. Sanford to make improvements at a store at 1118 Macdonald avenue. The improvements consist of a partition and a door.
Mrs. and Mrs. Edwin Pasco, 430 Twentieth street have returned from a month's tour of Canada. The couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Krumdick, 5215 Silver avenue.

BANDITS FLEE
ROBBED BANK
IN AIRPLANE

(By Universal Service)
MODESTO, Aug. 2.—Three young bandits today used an airplane in which to make their escape after holding up a bank at Crowe's Landing.
The trio of desperadoes entered the First National Bank there shortly after closing time this afternoon. None was masked and each carried a "sawed off" shot gun.
While one of them at the point of a gun backed the cashier, the only person in the bank, into the rear and compelling him to open the vault, others scooped all the currency in sight into their pockets.
The vaults open, one of the bandits grabbed a handful of paper money and closed the door on the cashier. They obtained about $2000 in all.
The trio then fled in an automobile and rushed to a field where a strange airplane had been noticed.

Sixteenth And Twentieth
Streets Will Be Stopped

In regard to the protest received by the city council last week in regard to the spotting of freight cars on the Santa Fe tracks between Sixteenth and Twentieth streets City Clerk A. C. Faris informed the council last night that he had communicated with the railroad company and they had agreed to remedy the situation.
City Clerk Faris stated that he and W. B. Trull agent for the railroad company has interviewed tenants of the tract and found that only the owners were objecting to the unloading of freight cars and the trucking of freight by feed companies. Trull stated that the company would remedy the condition by refusing to spot cars at Seventeenth Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets and that hereafter they would spot their cars only at Sixteenth and Twentieth streets.
Objection to the spotting of cars at the street were made by the owners who stated that they were prevented from entering their buildings by the trucks of feed companies loading along the branch track.

El Cerrito Board Awards Paving

The bid of the California Construction company which was $120,242.74 was $2,400.10 higher than the lowest bid submitted a week ago by the Oakland Paving company and $780.83 higher than the bid of the Hutchinson company who was the next lowest bidder.
The award was made on the statement of City Attorney W. S. Pierce that the bonds of the Oakland Paving company and the Hutchinson company were not legal and that therefore the California Construction company was the lowest responsible bidder.

A REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION

An impressive and pathetic sight it must have been that parade of 20,000 French veterans, led by maimed and blind through the streets of Paris to the foot of Washington's statue, where they placed a plaque in protest against the terms of settlement of the French debt to the United States. We are told that the parade was at first forbidden by the French Government, but this action later was rescinded "through the force of public opinion."

Public opinion in France undoubtedly was squarely behind the protest of the veterans. The sympathies of the Parisian population always have been with the veterans, especially the maimed and blind, for no matter how shrewd a Frenchman may be in a business transaction, he is never lacking in sentiment or a keen appreciation for the dramatic or theatrical.

One naturally recalls an episode of the first great Armistice Day celebration in Paris, in 1919. The French Government in preparation for the monster defile of Allied Troops through the Arc de Triumphant, had erected thousands of seats along the Avenue Champs Elysees. These seats were in great demand, and every person of any consequence in France made a strenuous effort to declare himself in on their apportionment. The committee in charge of allotting seats, beset on all sides by demands, backed up with many and various brands of political, social and commercial influence, tore its hair and pruned the original quotas allotted to various organizations with patriotic or service claims to representation.

Among these quotas was that allotted the war blind, for whom the French population always has had tremendous sympathy. As demands from politicians and others for seats increased, the committee cut down the number set aside for the blind, until only a few hundred seats were left. The blind men promptly refused this allotment, asserting there must be seats for all their number in Paris, amounting to 5,000 or more of them would appear at the celebration.

Public opinion was thoroughly aroused, and for several days vehement discussions were carried on in the cafes, the Chamber of Deputies and the columns of the newspapers. The blind men had almost the unanimous support of the people of Paris, and the government was compelled to admit defeat. The demands of the special interest for seats was too strong to be ignored, however, and only a day before the celebration, the government cut the Gordian knot by tearing down all the seats which workmen for weeks had been laboring night and day to erect. Then everyone had to stand, and apparently everyone was happy.

The cynical might argue that the average veteran is in no position to judge whether the terms of the French debt settlement are just or unjust. The fact remains, however, that the millions of soldiers represented by the paraders were solidly behind their comrades, and the French public also was with them. That the French government ostensibly forbade the demonstration proves little, for the French government, through the French press has been largely responsible for the widespread feeling in France that the American debt in toto is unjust.

Since Brookhart received only 203,000 votes out of an electorate of 1,000,000, we don't think Iowa was revolting nearly so hard as she was playing checkers or sleeping.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

BEAUTY HINTS

By Peggy Hopkins Joyce

Ventilate your hair. On warm sultry summer days, your hat crowds the life from those naturally lustrous and verile locks. Select a warm—not hot—airy place in the bright sunshine and shake out your hair, gently, lock by lock, while the health-giving rays do their work. But never remain long in the glaring light with your head unprotected. Old will take.

Spouse: "John, what time is it?"
Slightly inebriate: "I can't tell. There's two hands on this damn watch and I don't know which to believe."—Brown Jug.

Joe: "Yep, I came within an ace of doing it last night."
Campus: "Doing what?"
Joe: "Making a royal flush."—Ohio Sun Dial.

Sol is a bit strenuous when it comes to bleaching hair. He can streak it unmercifully.
But if you try this semi-weekly airing, I'm sure you will find it worth the short time which it will take.

HOW TO BUY

If you are a careful dresser, you study your face and features and coloring. Beauty is harmony. This is as true of the house as of the mistress of it. Persian rugs with painted furniture—never! Mahogany furniture on a matting—parbleu! If you are rich you may visit the exclusive specialty shops with their mirror lined walls and their casement windows, or, if you are counting your pennies, you may be haunting basement bargain stores, but wherever you buy, remember that price is not always a criterion of value. You can furnish a house poorly on a lot of money and furnish it well on a little. This kind of buying represents what in the long run might be called economy.

If ever by some unforeseen good fortune an avalanche of dollars sweeps into your purse and you are attacked by the spending fever, stay at home, and think.

CLEO DE MERODE

"The loveliest woman in the world," King Leopold I. called her and the remainder of Europe subscribed to the royal discrimination of the venerable Belgian monarch. But there were individuals who also who termed Cleo de Merode the "greatest of international heartbreakers."

Who does not remember the futile romance of this singer and dancer and King Leopold? Then following closely there came the little pitched romantic tale of the petite opera singer's kidnapping. She remained a prisoner in the sombre castle of Prince Vassili Dimitri in the blackest reaches of Russia and the tongues of Europe wagged again.

And then her escape and the horror of her myriad admirers when Europe discovered that Cleo de Merode had lost her lovely tresses.

For many years Cleo was the darling and the toast of all the continent. Dukes, princes, potentates, by the score were at her feet bidding for her capricious favor. And this was "only twenty years ago."

THE MOTHER OF SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

All great men are unfailingly anxious to pay tribute to their mothers. It would seem as if those who have reached some height of eminence are best able to recall what they owe to the woman who in so many cases, struggled that her children should have a chance in the world.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who created "Sherlock Holmes" is another of these men. Recalling the poverty of his early days, he says:

"My parent's means were limited for my father's salary as a civil servant was not more than $1200 a year, and it was my dear mother who bore the long and arduous strain. Often I said to her: 'When you are old, Mamma, you shall have a velvet dress and gold glasses and sit in comfort by the fire.'"

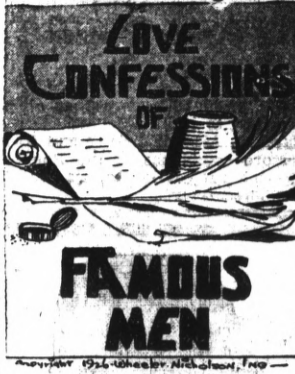

"Thank God it so came to pass."

During his schooling, the expenses of which were a great drain upon Mrs. Doyle's meager resources, she had the opportunity of shifting the burden easily but because she doubted whether this would be of benefit to her boy she refused.

"Early in my career at the Jesuit school of Stonyhurst," Sir Arthur relates, "an offer had been made to my mother that my school fees would be remitted if I was dedicated to the Church. My mother refused this, so both the Church and I had an escape. When I think, however, of her small income and her struggle to keep up appearances and make both ends meet, it was a fine example of independence of character, for it meant paying out some $250 a year which might have been avoided by a word of assent."

Mrs. Doyle's intense struggles were mainly due to the fact that her husband, Charles Doyle, was born to be an artist and was forced into ordinary wage-earning channels. His head was more often in the clouds than on earth and although his own case was tragic his family suffered thereby. Charles Doyle left numerous watercolor paintings, which he distributed among friends haphazardly, and it is the aim of his son to collect them and put them into a permanent art gallery.

EDMUND KEAN'S CIRCE

"I would banish every pleasure in life, shut myself up in the most dreary cavern, lose even the recollection of language for want of use, if at the end of twenty years I could be sure of making her my own."

This is what Edmund Kean, the great actor, said of a woman after she had betrayed him basely and almost brought him to ruin. Kean met Charlotte Cox, the wife of a London alderman under strange circumstances. She professed she was so overcome by one of his performances she was witnessing that she fainted in the theater, and friends carried her into Kean's dressing room to recover. From then on, for about eight years, Kean loved her passionately and she consented to be his mistress, for Kean also was married. All this time the alderman seem oblivious of the whole affair and appeared to be Kean's greatest friend. Then one day the lady abandoned the actor and directly following her action was a suit by the alderman for alienation of affection.

EDMUND KEAN

During the eight years of Kean's love-life Mrs. Cox had been making, very successfully heavy demands upon his purse and her husband's suit at last revealed the affair for what it actually was, the good old badger game.

Cox won his suit and was awarded $3000 damages, a large sum in those days. Kean's reputation suffered severely and it was a long time before he lived down the public revelations attending the trial.

Yet he could not forget Mrs. Cox. The Circe had him completely in her power.

In the following excerpt from one of Kean's letters to the woman man can be seen how much he loved her.

"...I can scarce collect my thoughts sufficiently to thank you for your letter and to tell you how much I love you. It is now, my dearest girl, that I wish for you... I want now my own dear darling... my fevered head wants to rest in the bosom of my Charlotte."

"Meet me as soon as possible at Birmingham, that is, as soon as safety will permit, and believe me I love you so distraction and in heart I am solely yours, for ever, ever, ever."

THE ADVENTURES OF VIVIAN VANITY

NO. 14.—"At Sea"

As Vivian leaned back in her deck chair, only the blue sea before her, she thought of the three lives that had been offered her—one as the wife of Carl Brink in his stately mansion; one as the sweetheart-wife of Norman in his more modest home; one as the Princess of Midonia. "Have I chosen wisely!" she wondered. "I shall miss Norman."

Not did Vivian suspect that the two who were to alter her fate so completely were even now laying their plans.

Residents Ask Street Paving

City Engineer E. A. Hoffman last night reported to the city council that the majority of the residents in the section of the city east of Nicholl park from Macdonald avenue to the Santa Fe railroad are in favor of street improvements in the district.

He recommended that oil macadam streets be constructed together with sidewalks and gutters of concrete. Objections to this type of pavement were made by members of the council who stated that heavy trucks would cut into the soft pavement.

City Engineer Hoffman declared that the low class of the property would not warrant a more expensive pavement and stated also that since the streets were not main thoroughfares the type of pavement agreed upon by the residents would be satisfactory.

The matter was referred to the street committee for one week.

The cost of proving a new way to health

This offers you a new discovery which physicians are prescribing now to millions. It is a gland secretion derived from beef livers. It stimulates the liver, increases the flow of bile. Modern research proves that cathartics never do this.

This new flow of bile, which starts at once, floods the bowels. It relieves constipation quickly—usually within ten hours.

Then bile is an antiseptic. It combats the germs which breed in the blood. A new supply of bile ends countless results of blood impurity.

"Bile is a digestant. This new supply and bowel indigestion. This liver gland secretion is embodied in Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents ten drops.

"Clip this advertisement. Take it to our Special Agent, La Moine Drug Co., and he will give you a liberal sample of Dioxol free."

The coins formed a part of the Salting bequest and are believed to be the only ones in existence their age varying from 2500 to 17000. NAZIMOVA IN MOTHER ROLE AT RICHMOND

The Nazimova of "War Brides" and "Revelation" flame again before the cameras in Edwin Carewe's production of "My Son," the first National Picture which opened yesterday at the Richmond Theatre.

The Russian actress transcends even her fine work in "Madonna of the Streets" and gives a performance that for sheer artistry and perfection of technique stands alone in the cinema field.

Carewe proved himself a great director when he produced "The Bad Man" with Holbrook Dunn. He topped that work with "Madonna of the Streets" and "My Son" bids fair to establish him in the class with Griffith and Lubich. With keen touches he paints the picture of the Portuguese fisherwoman who loves three men with the simplicity comparable to a real artist's portrait.

Ana Silva, in the story, loves three men: the sheriff, and Felipe Vargas, the fisherman. But more than either of these she loves her son Tony. She gives him all of a mother's love, and all is harmonious until a flippant flapper from the great big city comes to the town. The reaction is volcanic. Trouble leads young Tony toward prison walls.

How Ana's faith in her son and the great love she holds for him are justified forms the basis for the most delicious screen fare offered to the cultured appetites of our local fans in some time.

Besides Nazimova, "My Son" boasts the presence of Jack Pickford, Hobart Bosworth, Constance Bennett, Mary Akin, Ian Keith, Charley Murray and Dot Farley, all of whom give splendid performances.

Other features include "Looking for Sally," a comedy scream; "Topics of the Day," and "Aesop's Fables."

WILL REMODEL THE MECHANICS BANKING ROOMS

At a cost of approximately $10,000, the banking rooms of the Mechanics Bank of Richmond will be remodeled, according to a statement issued yesterday by George Thornton, vice-president.

Work on the improvements will start next Monday and includes three new cages for the paying tellers and two new offices. The specifications call for marble finish to harmonize with the rest of the room. The general appearance of the interior will remain unchanged.

Thornton also stated that two tellers will be added to the present staff as soon as the work is completed in about six weeks.

The cages and offices will be built in the section at present occupied by the ladies' rest room, the presidents office and the bookkeeping department which will be moved to the mezzanine.

The contract for the work has been awarded to the Herman Sato company of San Francisco, marble contractors.

To meet the growth of patronage of the Mechanics bank, the directors felt that additional facilities were needed and the employment of more help was necessary. The decision to make the improvements resulted.

W. C. FIELDS IS STAR OF FILM AT THE CALIFORNIA

Never give a sucker an even break.

That's the meaning of the title attached to W. C. Fields' first starring vehicle for Paramount, "It's the Old Army Game," which opened to the hilarious crowds at the California Theatre last evening. From start to finish, the film was punctuated by giggles, guffaws, laughs and absolute shouts of joyousness.

All of which merriment might have been caused by any number of reasons. First W. C. Fields, making his debut as an honest-to-goodness movie star in this comedy, is one of the most amusing men the screen has ever known. Second, Eddie Sutherland, the director, is a fellow well versed in distributing laughs. Witness this "Behind the Front." Then there is piquant little Louise Brooks, featured along with Mr. Fields. She contributes a performance second only to that given by the star. A fine cast which includes Mickey Bennett, Blanche Riss, Mary Fox, and William Oxtan, is mighty capable and could not use very much improvement.

And last but not least, we find that Joseph P. McEvoy wrote the original play which was adapted to the silver sheet by Tom Geraghty and J. Clarkson Miller. The story is slight. Merely that of a drug store chemist who becomes involved in a scheme to sell New York lots to Florida real estate men. Strange to relate—it works!

Other features include "Ukelele Sheiks," a Glenn Tryon comedy; "Sweden Today," and "Topics of the Day."

MEXICAN BAN ON SMUGGLING IS PLANNED

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Determined to prevent the smuggling into Mexico of arms and munitions which might be the means of fomenting serious disorders, officials are considering the issuance of special instructions for extra vigilance on the part of American customs forces on the border, it was learned today.

Enlarged forces will be available to cope with attempts at smuggling, increases in the border patrol having been authorized recently by the treasury. Although this enlargement was a blow at rum smuggling the same forces will guard against arms shipments.

In view of the strict embargo on arms, officials expressed belief that many customs collectors have

Councilman Garrard Returns from East

Councilman and Mrs. E. J. Garrard returned to their home, 207 Cottage avenue on Sunday from a most successful trip to Yellowstone park with the Ahmest Temple, Knights of the Mystic Shrine of Oakland. More than sixty people, members of the Temple made the trip.

Their first stop was at Ogden, Utah where they enjoyed a dinner at The Hermitage, a resort in Ogden canyon. Five days were spent in the beautiful park. The party returned via Salt Lake City where they were feted by the Salt Lake City Shriners.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Riordan left yesterday morning by motor from Santa Cruz where they will spend their vacation. Riordan is manager of the California theater here.

and after being questioned, returned to Salinas. There it was decided that his name had been brought into the McPherson case. It would be better to give up the Carmel cottage. So he left the cottage with "Miss X" and drove South to Santa Barbara.

"I have not seen 'Miss X' since the night of May 29, but I have corresponded with her," Ormiston declares in the affidavit. "I know her true name and her present whereabouts. She has insisted that I make this statement. She is a trained nurse by profession.

"I have sufficient confidence in 'Miss X' to state that I am of the opinion that before any great harm should befall Mrs. McPherson, who is entirely innocent of the matter, and yet utterly unable to defend herself, that 'Miss X' will make affidavit supporting mine."

When told of the receipt of the affidavit and its contents, Mrs. McPherson declared that Ormiston meant nothing to her anymore than hundreds of other workers at the temple.

"I haven't the slightest idea in the world who 'Miss X' is or may be," she said.

RUBBER TRUST ONSLAUGHT IS COOLIDGE PLAN

(By Universal Service)
By JOHN T. LAMBERT
PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Tired of seeing the American public gouged by foreign government monopolies, President Coolidge will lay plans to break the British rubber trust at a conference here tomorrow with Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., son of the "American Rubber King."

The British interests now dominate the active rubber sources of the world. Secretary of Commerce Hoover has estimated that their reign of high prices "stuck" the American consumers in excess of $100,000,000 a year.

Hoover's "save rubber" campaign, which broke the prices for a time and made him immensely unpopular with the British financiers, was waged with full-hearted backing of the president.

Although prices fell off, the United States is without an immediate rubber supply and is the biggest user in the world. In Panama, the nearest source of natural rubber was recently leased to British interests without protest by the State Department.

Young Firestone has just returned from a tour of the rubber country in the Near East. He is said to be convinced that the United States must open up the Philippines to American rubber capital if she is to be saved from unending exploitation.

Firestone, Sr., has for years studied the Philippine situation. He was ready to put money in there but the Philippine laws forbidding the leasing of land in large tracts to Americans or "other foreigners" the Philippine laws were framed to create a large class of small land-owners and to protect the people from possible exploitation by foreign capital opposed to their desire for independence.

Colonel Carmi A. Thompson was sent to the Archipelago by President Coolidge for three reasons: to ascertain the causes of the continual fusing between General Wood and the Filipino legislature; 2, to inquire whether the situation in Mexico City Filipinos have progressed in the art of government, and, 3, to find out if there exists a good field for rubber production by American industry.

The president has been informed that Colonel Thompson has made a splendid impression in the Islands. Much of the anti-American feeling, caused by Wood's alleged military atmosphere, is reported to have been dispelled already. There is said to be an increasing inclination to open the islands to American investments.

Young Firestone will be the second of great industrial families to be received at White Pine camp within a week. Edsel Ford told the president of the Ford plans to make the country supreme in the air. Rubber is a valuable asset of defense. Firestone's visit, like Ford's, will have to do with American preparedness.

'HANDS OFF' IS POLICY OF U. S. MEXICO CRISIS

ports suggesting that the embargo on the shipment of arms to Mexico would be lifted. Such action would be fraught with gravest consequences and would be directly contrary to the traditional policy of former Secretary of State Hughes, it was pointed out.

It would mean in the first place that the United States had decided to place a formidable weapon in the hands of the foes of President Calles, during the present crisis. Aside from any question as to the strength of the existing government and the possibility of being able to suppress an outbreak, it would again put the United States in the position of "interfering."

In adopting this attitude the State Department has not considered the merits or demerits of the clash between the church and state, it was learned. It has simply adopted the view that it is a problem which must be worked out by Mexico.

So far as reports from Ambassador Sheffield and consular agents in Mexico indicate there has been no interference with American lives and property. This is the only ground upon which the United States would have cause to act it was pointed out.

The State Department is being kept fully advised of the progress of the situation reports from Ambassador Sheffield to Secretary of State Kellogg are being relayed to the president at the summer White House and his guidance or instruction is frequently sought.

Both there and here the determination is to adhere strictly to the Hughes Latin-American policy. This originated when the United States blocked Mexican ports to prohibit arms going to Mexican revolutionists and formally declared that a revolutionary movement in that country would be without the support of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Reports to the Mexican embassy today from the foreign office declared that the situation in Mexico City is apparently "tranquil." Such disorders and disturbances as have marked the retirement of Catholic priests were said to be diminishing. The churches are open for those who desire to worship and the people so doing are not meeting with interference it was stated.

CZAR'S RULES IN VOGUE BY HEADS OF SOVIET GOVT.

(By Universal Service)
By O. D. TOLISCHUS
BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Returning to the methods of the Czars the Soviet rulers are reported to have banished Gregory Zinoviev, apostle of the world revolution and leader of the recent party revolt which shook inner circles of the Soviet government, to Siberia or the far off Ural Mountains for two years. This is the latest information reaching here.

The banishment, it is said, is disguised as a "vacation" on which Zinoviev is scheduled to start tomorrow. The real significance is that it removed the Bolshevik master propagandist from control of the third Internationale through which he spread his revolutionary gospel.

At the same time reports came that the Soviet government has decided to make new and far reaching concessions to foreign, especially American, capital. Foreign capitalists are to get greater freedom of the sale and distribution of their products and will be allowed to export at will and without export permits as required heretofore, a law to this effect is to be submitted to the Bolshevik party convention.

Both reports are taken here to indicate that the recent conflict has come to at least a temporary conclusion with a victory for M. Stalin, of the moderate faction, who is beginning to enlist foreign aid to pull Russia out of her economic crisis.

MISS BARRETT BELIEVED TO BE NEAR GOAL

(By Universal Service)
DOVER, England, Aug. 2.—Although it was reported early this evening that Miss Clara Belle Barrett, of New York was making good progress in her attempt to swim the English channel, up till ten o'clock tonight there was no definite news of her position.

Those best able to judge believe that the New York swimming instructor is nearing the French Coast as she has been fourteen hours in the water. Had she given up, critics point out, the motor boat accompanying her would have returned to Dover.

The dense fog continues, but the sea is calm.

Doctor G. I. Brewster, of London, who entered the water three hours after Miss Barrett, was forced to give up after being in the water four and three quarters hours, when he was eight miles out from Folkestone.

The fog was so thick that a steamer from Calais was three quarters of a hour late. No one on the ship had seen Miss Barrett.

DOVER, England, Aug. 3.—With a heavy tide running against her and a dense fog shrouding the water, Miss Clara Belle Barrett, the New York swimming instructor, at seven o'clock tonight was still bravely battling her way across the English Channel.

Dr. George Brewster of London, who entered the water, three hours after Miss Barrett, has given up.

At one o'clock this afternoon Miss Barrett was reported twelve miles out and was making good headway. She had covered one stretch of four miles in an hour and forty minutes. At 7 o'clock tonight she was holding her own against the adverse tides and was reported to be still twelve miles out from the Dover shore.

Colonel Freyberg the English war hero intends to take the water in an attempt to swim the channel at 10 o'clock tonight. There is a chance that Miss Gertrude Ederle may start with him and continue the swim if conditions prove favorable.

Albanian Feud Ends As All Shoot At Once

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—A duel with four dead in an Albanian blood feud is reported from Belgrade.

Two brothers of the clan of Selidovic sat in a cafe at the village of Ueskub in southern Yugoslavia when two brothers of the hostile clan of Asanovic entered.

The two Asanovics immediately pulled their guns. The Selidovics were just as quick on the draw. All four fired at the same time. All four fired true to the mark and all four fell over dead.

The clock-faced tower chimed a morning hour.

Ironworkers Win Fast Game From Pittsburg Team

The Pittsburg Independents were badly murdered, slaughtered and otherwise beaten by the Richmond Ironworkers who got peevish on Sunday afternoon and knocked the Pittsburg team around the lot to the tune of 17 to 2.

Jiggs Wright was on the mound and he pitched a good brand of ball, is what we mean to say. Hon Roberts and Cony were on the mound for the Pittsburg team and were hit hard and heavy.

Wright allowed but three hits while his team mates made 19 hits off of Roberts and Cony. Wright, Skarich and Kresovich got a circuit clout each but no one was on bases at the time.

Sunday's game, here in this city, will be the crisis of the league. The Ironworkers play Concord, who are now leading the league, here and if the local team gets as mad as they did last Sunday one can expect anything to happen.

In event that the Ironworkers are winners this will tie them for league supremacy with the Concord aggregation and thus another game will have to be played. If the local team wins the extra game they will be winners of the second half of the league and will have to play a three game series with the Concord team for the pennant.

Winters Plans to Continue Fights

Contrary to rumors which are current, Adolph Winters, Richmond fight promoter does not plan to discontinue fights at his hall, Eleventh street and Macdonald avenue.

Winters stated yesterday that the fights had been staged at a loss to him and that he was anxious to make more satisfactory arrangements with his partner Harry Egel.

"The permit now stands in Egel's name," said Winters "but I believe it would be more satisfactory if the permit was turned over to me. I have asked Egel to turn over the permit. If he agrees to this I will probably keep him as matchmaker."

For considerable time, rumors have been current that Winters was planning to quit the fights and that there had been a break between the two promoters because of financial losses.

Champions Past and Present

WALTER JOHNSON

In 1907, from the sticks of Weiser, Idaho, out in the great open spaces, came Walter Johnson to Washington where the great blonde Swede has set a record for pitching that perhaps will never be equalled. Pitching eighteen straight seasons for the Senators.

The old veteran is the leading kalsomner of baseball history, having no less than 110 shutouts to his credit. During the 1924 season, his seventeenth year in the majors, Johnson twirled a seven inning nohit contest against the St. Louis Browns. Shortly before that perfect performance, he let down the Chicago White Sox with one lone bingle.

There is but one other pitcher who is worthy of comparison to the great Johnson, one who is considered by many as greater, Christy Mathewson, the "old master," "Big Six" as he was called.

Mathewson, pitched twelve years for the New York Giants and established a wonderful record. Matty's stellar achievement was in the World's series of 1905, when he turned in a performance that stands alone in the history of the game. He twirled three games against the Athletics without allowing a single run. His pitching in the 1918 World's series against the great Joe Wood of the Red Sox is an epic.

CONTRA COSTA LOAN COMPANY IN NEW HOME

Enlarged office space of the Contra Costa Loan company in its new location on Tenth street in the Syndicate Building shows the growth made by the company since its organization by Joseph L. Reed, March 9, 1924.

Ample room to meet the needs of the organization are found in the new quarters. Every attention has been given to offer the public adequate accommodations as well as providing suitable space for the bookkeeping and other office departments.

Joseph L. Reed, manager and secretary-treasurer of the company is to be congratulated on the progress and success shown by the careful management of the institution. Reed with his many years of experience along financial lines has been instrumental in organizing similar loan and finance companies throughout the state. Under his management the Contra Costa Loan and Finance company has grown to its present position where the necessity for larger quarters were called for.

Not only has the company grown to such a size where larger quarters were made necessary but the demand for loans has been so great that the board of directors decided to double the capital stock of the company. The major portion of this increased capitalization was almost immediately subscribed for by the officers, directors and stockholders, proof of their faith in its continued growth.

The officers of the Contra Costa Loan and Finance company are: Sydney S. Clark, president; Fred B. LaMoine, vice-president; Joseph L. Reed, secretary-treasurer and manager; T. H. DeLap, attorney; and P. O. Rupp, assistant secretary and manager.

The Contra Costa Loan and Finance company is organized for the benefit of the average man to provide him with liberal money credit service which the banks supply for business men. While the bank is handicapped by its plan to loan only on tangible securities such as real estate collateral or acceptable business assets, the loan company is permitted to accept the character of the borrower as sufficient security.

Easy payments on the installment plan with a slight rate of interest now permits the average man to have the same service as the man of business.

The need for such an institution was recognized in Richmond. A group of citizens banded together and founded the company with Reed as manager.

EL CERRITO NOTES

A letter was received from J. A. Farnborough of Mira Vista by the board protesting that firemen in burning the grass off the vacant lots had damaged his hedge to the extent of fifty dollars. Marshal Forrest Wright stated that he had inspected the hedge and that Farnborough had agreed to wait a month to decide the amount of damage done to his property.

Dr. W. W. Fraser, city health officer, appeared before the trustees and asked for an appropriation of $25 to help defray the expenses to the meeting of the League of Municipalities to be held at Yosemite in two weeks. The request was laid over for next week.

On the recommendation of trustee Frank McDermott, Assistant Fire Chief Frank Walsh was granted a two weeks vacation.

The purchase of 500 pounds of poison barley was ordered by the board to exterminate squirrels.

A soft drink permit was granted to George F. Scott, Lincoln and Elm streets.

City trustee Frank McDermott stated that contractors doing street work should be made to notify the fire department when streets were closed and opened to facilitate the department in attending fires.

City Attorney Pierce was instructed to draft an ordinance covering the question.

Permit Given Joe Perasso to Enlarge Shop

Permission was granted Joe Perasso, 1235 Macdonald avenue to enlarge his automobile repair shop at that location. He plans to double the capacity of the repair shop and made application for a special permit.

El Cerrito Is Denied Crossing At Center Street

In answer to the request of the trustees for a crossing over the Santa Fe tracks at Center street, J. A. Christie, division superintendent of the railroad company appeared before the El Cerrito board of trustees last night and stated that the company did not think that a crossing at that point would be safe on account of the embankment and would rather not put it in.

A committee composed of Attorney Pierce, City Engineer Ross L. Calfee and trustee George Conlon was appointed to meet with J. A. Christie and the railroad commission to go into the matter further.

Parking of Trucks At Doors Protested

Stating that he had received numerous complaints from business houses in the city in regard to the parking of cars at entrances in the business district, Councilman J. I. Collins asked the city council if action could not be taken to remedy the condition. The present ordinance allows a merchant to zone two-thirds of his business frontage for unloading but does not allow him to use it as a parking space.

No action was taken by the council.

FALL OPENING DATES CHANGED

Fall opening days for the Richmond merchants will be September 2, 3 and 4, according to changes made yesterday. The event was planned to take place during the latter part of this month but it was found that merchants had planned their style exhibits during a later date.

The same tentative schedule will be followed with window unveiling on Thursday, style show and parade on Friday and a special Saturday selling events.

Window displays will be the feature of the event and the heads of the committees in charge are asking the cooperation of all merchants in calling attention to Richmond merchandise through the use of window displays.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow noon to arrange further plans for the event.
